SUBJECT: EPA Meetings with representatives of the American Lung Association (ALA) of Washington, the Sierra Club, and the Audobon Society

FROM: Dana Davoli
Environmental Scientist

TO: Docket

A meeting was held on August 17, 1983, in the EPA Region 10 office with Ruth Weiner (Sierra Club), Pam Crocker-Davis (Audobon) and Janet Chalupnik and Tim Larsen (ALA). A follow-up meeting was held in Tacoma at St. Joseph's Hospital with the ALA (Janet Chalupnik; Drs. John Allen, James Billingsly, and Sherri Thon; Bill Giddings; Doug Jackman, Sue Asher). EPA attendees included Bob Ajax, David Patrick, Al Veervuert, Dana Davoli, Wayne Grotheer, Bon McGaughy, and Todd Thorrlund.

Both meetings were for the purpose of further explaining EPA's proposed NESHAP for high arsenic copper smelters. Bob Ajax began each meeting with a brief overview (similar to that presented in the public workshops) of the proposed standards. EPA then responded to questions raised by the non-EPA attendees. Their questions primarily pertained to the health risk estimates, emission estimates, control technology conclusions, and their derivation. The associations present at the meetings did not present positions. They do, however, expect to formulate positions and present these at the public hearings.
